Transportation Security Administration (TSA) Cares Helpline for Air Travelers with Disabilities and Medical Conditions

Travelers may call TSA Cares prior to traveling with questions about screening policies, procedures and what to expect at the security checkpoint. TSA recommends that passengers call 72 hours ahead of travel for information about what to expect during screening. Travelers requiring special accommodations or concerned about checkpoint screening may request a Passenger Support Specialist ahead of time or can ask a checkpoint officer or supervisor for a Passenger Support Specialist when at the checkpoint. Passenger Support Specialists receive specialized disability training provided by TSA's Office of Civil Rights and Liberties, Ombudsman and Traveler Engagement. Training for Passenger Support Specialists include how to assist with individuals with special needs, how to communicate with passengers by listening and explaining, and disability etiquette and disability civil rights.

TSA Cares assistance is only available for assistance through the screening checkpoint. If you need in-flight assistance or wheelchair assistance from the curb to the aircraft, please contact your airline.

Online Form – Requests for TSA Cares Assistance: www.tsa.gov/contact-center/form/cares

Hours: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. EST, and weekends and holidays from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. EST. Travelers who are deaf or hard of hearing can use a relay service (711) or email TSA-ContactCenter@tsa.dhs.gov.

The canines are working animals that are trained to detect traces of explosives concealed on passengers or their belongings. Passengers traveling with animals are asked to use a checkpoint where the working dogs are not assigned at a particular time. Passengers traveling with service animals may continue to use the checkpoint with working dogs. More information: <https://bwiairport.com/at-bwi/resources/traveling-with-animals/>.
